4. EXPIRATION DATE

5. FACTS WHICH JUSTIFY A SINGLE AVAILABLE SOURCE PROCUREMENT:

- a. The Dutch Mill Catering will expire on October 31, 2011. There are no remaining options available on the initial contract. The contractor was originally awarded an emergency contract totaling up-to- four months. The goal of the District is to solicit and award a long term contract in approximate six months. Due the transition of the agency's administration and procurement directions, there is a need to incorporate major requirement changes and revisions of the statement of work, terms and conditions.

- b. The proposed performance period specified in the short term contract(s) will allow sufficient procurement LEAD time to complete the planning phase, solicitation process, and other related pre-award activities required to award new long term contract(s).
- c. The Dutch Mill Catering has been performing the services in separate portions by District Wards since there is no one supplier that can fulfill all requirements to all eight district wards since the bankruptcy of previous contractor, Nutrition Inc., in July 2011. Breaking down the food service requirement by numbered Wards and delivery sites is the only way to ensure that this vital service is provided to the elderly program participants without interruption. To ensure continuity of service, achievement of food quality, and to control costs, these contractors shall remain in place until May 31, 2012.
- d. OoA officials are satisfied with the services performed by the current contractor. The District requires of Office of Aging to daily nutritious meals to eligible elderly participants.
